

Need to strengthen your conflict-engagement skills in the workplace?
Interested in a useful framework for understanding conflict?
Want to deepen your comfort-level with conflict?

Diminishing the Cost of Conflict ~ A Workplace Mediation Training for Professionals

The training was life-changing and is truly bearing fruit for me in my work. I'm in some degree of awe at the paradigm shifts I am making. I just wanted you to know you hit the mark here!"

-David Gott, 2016 Trainee

November 16-18, 2017

(8:30am – 4:30pm Daily)

Cornell School of ILR Conference Center, Ithaca

Overview: This highly interactive three-day professional development training provides the Transformative theory and skills of conflict engagement by a third party. The theoretical premises of Transformative Mediation are based on a relational world-view of human competence and moral motivation that can strongly inform the role of the person who works to support, not impose, interactional “shifts” for people in conflict. These shifts become the foundation for more respectful engagement, creative problem solving, and improved productivity. To facilitate the translation of the training concepts and skills into your specific workplace context, a follow up co-mediation session with the trainer is included (and strongly encouraged) upon your request. ***

Limited to the first 18 registrants

Registration and payment-in-full due 15 days prior to the training date

For trainer bio (Jeff Shepardson), go to www.cdrc.org / services / training

Cost: $550.00

To Register, complete and mail this segment with payment to:

CDRC, 171 East MLK St., Center Ithaca Box 111, Ithaca, NY 14850, Attn: Fall Mediation Training

NAME: _____ EMAIL: _____

MAILING ADDRESS: _____

PHONE NUMBER: _____

HOW DID YOU HEAR ABOUT THIS TRAINING? _____